REFORMS IN GERMANY'S FINANCES DEMANDED

Socialist Workers Call on Government to Set Up Immediately Fixed Currency to Increase Production—Seizure of Harvest Is Also Urged.

WOULD SUPPRESS INDUSTRY'S PLANS

Von Hoesch, Failing Again in Effort to Get Paris to Enter Negotiations, Asserts 10,000,000 Are on Verge of Famine.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 18.—A resolution demanding immediate currency and financial reforms, on the ground that a fixed currency is the only basis on which the necessary increase in production can be obtained, was passed at the first general meeting of the Central Committee of the Socialist Workers and Officials' Associations yesterday.

Another resolution asked that private concerns directed against the commonwealth be suppressed. While it was asserted that vigorous opposition would be offered to attempts to alter the eight-hour day, the delegates said they were ready to make arrangements regarding overtime in certain industries.

The workers also demanded seizure of the harvest as a measure for relieving the food shortage.

Eighty-four persons arrested in Tuesday's rioting will be brought to trial, charged with breaches of the Government's emergency regulations.
It was stated today that during the last week 47 baker's shops in Berlin have been plundered by the unemployed.

In consequence of the withdrawal of state aid to the bakers, the price of bread jumped from 1,000,000 marks a loaf on Monday, to 450,000, 600 marks Tuesday. The bakers now must buy their grain in the open market, virtually on the dollar basis, and must charge for their products accordingly.

POINCARÉ INSISTS BERLIN FIND WAY TO PAY INDEMNITY

PARIS, Oct. 18.—Hardly a week after the last rebuff, the German Charge d'Affaires, Von Hoesch, made another fruitless attempt yesterday to obtain permission to participate in negotiations between the French and Belgian Governments and the Ruhr industrialists, and at the same time to resume pourparlers on the general problem of reparations.

A similar effort was made simu-laneously by his colleague at Brussels. Von Hoesch had an interview with Premier Poincaré lasting about an hour, at the end of which the German diplomat emerged looking weary and crestfallen. M. Poincaré, who left immediately afterward to lunch at the Czechoslovakian legation with Dr. Masaryk, strode briskly through the crowd of waiting newspaper men, but refused to vouchsafe any information regarding the conversation.

It is understood that Von Hoesch left a memoir with the French Premier sketching an outline of a possible plan for payment of reparations to begin after a moratorium of four years. The German plan takes note of the Belgian technical reports.

German Payments Impossible.
Von Hoesch insisted on the impossibility of the Reich's financing deliveries in kind in the present catastrophic state of the German budget and currency. He outlined, however, the general gravity of the economic situation in Germany, with 10,000,000 persons on the verge of famine and driven to desperation in the struggle for bread.

The German Charge d'Affaires explained Chancellor Stresemann's opposition that German payments are materially impossible, while France and Belgium continue to exploit the Ruhr and equally hopeless in any attempt to balance the budget so long as the Reich has not control of the Administration of Railways and other public services.

It is understood in diplomatic circles that the German plan takes note of the Belgian technical reports.

$10,000,000 FIRM HAS ONLY $33.63 IN CASH ON HAND

Business Troubles of Hurst Automatic Switch and Signal Co. Aired in U. S. Court at Jefferson City.

SIDETRACKED BY BLUE SKY LAW IN 1920

Effort to Enjoin State Officers From Enforcing Order Barring Its Stock Sales in Missouri Fails.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18.—The Hurst Automatic Switch and Signal Co., of St. Louis, incorporated as "a $10,000,000 company," but whose financial statement to the State Finance Department shows only $33.63 in cash on hand, was today refused by Federal Judge Reeves the order it sought to set aside a Finance Department refusal of a permit to sell stock.

The judge, in rendering a verbal opinion, said that if the Bank Commissioner had granted the company a license, he would have deserved to be prosecuted. A written opinion will be filed later, the judge said. The company also sought an injunction "sidetracking" any enforcement of the "blue sky" securities act against it, and restraining the Finance Department, Gov. Hyde and Attorney-General Barrett from interfering with the company's expressed desire "to carry on the business of sale of capital stock and manufacturing."

Allegations of Company.
Determination of the company's business resulted, it was alleged, from the order prohibiting sale of stock, issued on Oct. 13, 1920. The petition alleged the Finance Department had issued the order "maliciously" and since had enforced it "wrongfully and without authority." A permit was sought by the company to sell its stock at an increasing scale of prices ranging from $20 to $200 a share. Evidence was introduced that some of the stock had been sold in the past as low as 10 cents a share.

No actual manufacturing has been done by the company since its organization in Wyoming in 1901, according to Charles M. Hurst, of 530 Highland avenue, St. Louis, president and treasurer.
The company was first incorporated with authority to issue 1,000,000 shares of stock at $1 each, but this later was changed by the company to sell its stock at an increasing scale of prices ranging from $20 to $200 a share. Evidence was introduced that some of the stock had been sold in the past as low as 10 cents a share.

Assets listed were a factory site purchased for $27,510 against which are mortgages totalling $30,123; cash on hand and in bank $33.63; 255,000 unissued shares of stock and 14 patents with a declared value of $10,000,000.
The stock statement showed 38,403 shares were sold, 398 issued for real estate, 1,000,000 for patents (the one time equals the authorized issue) 400,000 shares for organization, 400,000 shares for promotion and 38,403 for commissions, totalling 2,077,204 shares.

Request of the Company.
Deputy Commissioner Hurwitz testified the company requested a permit to sell the first 25,000 shares at $20 a share, the next 28,000 at $50 a share, the next 100,000 at $100 a share and the next 100,000 at $200 a share.
He pointed out the one entry in the statement that 102,000 shares had been charged off as lost, because of default of a former treasurer, which was not explained. No money was paid the company for the stock, it was said. This constituted a liability of $1,020,000 against the company, Hurwitz stated.

No evidence was presented by the plaintiff to substantiate the alleged "malicious" denial of the permit, and the principal point advanced by Hurst, the only witness for the company, was that the order of denial stated no reason other than that the stock and funds of the company had been dissipated.
The company was made defendant in a suit filed in St. Louis recently on behalf of the State, to collect $21,000 alleged to be due as state franchise tax. The company countered with a damage suit for $10,000,000 against the State, because of denial of the stock permit, but the case was thrown out of court.

Lloyd George, Chief of the Sioux

David Lloyd George, former Premier of Great Britain, was initiated as a chief in the Sioux Indian tribe at Minneapolis Monday. A group of Indians from the Cheyenne River reservation had charge of the ceremony. Chief Two Eagles was the name bestowed upon Lloyd George, which, in the language of the Sioux, means "great in war and great in peace."

Lloyd George put on the regalia with a smile, and the Indians shouted with delight.
The judge pointed out that the Finance Commissioner may have found that in the conduct of its business the complainant "aided greater stress upon the stock jobbing feature than upon manufacturing."

B. T. Hurwitz, Deputy Finance Commissioner, reading from the sworn statement presented to the department by the company, testified the company's stock selling permit, yesterday testified the company showed expenses of $97,708 from Oct. 1, 1901, to May 1, 1920, and no profits. The amount received from stock sales was $65,255. The expense item included $14,719 in commission, $10,228 in salaries, $71,861 as "operating expense" and the balance in interest on money borrowed.

Assets listed were a factory site purchased for $27,510 against which are mortgages totalling $30,123; cash on hand and in bank $33.63; 255,000 unissued shares of stock and 14 patents with a declared value of $10,000,000.

The company countered with a damage suit for $10,000,000 against the State, because of denial of the stock permit, but the case was thrown out of court.

The court refused to hear testimony and argument on the injunction sought against enforcement of the "blue sky" act and to restrain state officials from interfering with the company's business as this part of the case was ruled on by Federal Judge A. Van Valkenburgh in a previous hearing at Kansas City last January.

POINT INVOLVED IN HEARING

In his decision Judge Van Valkenburgh dismissed the case as to the attack on constitutionality of the law and the injunction sought, but ruled a further hearing might be held on charges that the Finance Department "maliciously" issued the order and exceeded its authority.

Judge Van Valkenburgh stated in his decision that the corporation in its application for a license to do business in the State, stated its desire "to carry on in the State of Missouri solely the business of sale of capital stock and manufacturing."

RULES ASSESSOR MUST REPAY THE STATE $14,000

Opinion of Attorney-General's Office Against Buder in Claim for Fees for Income Tax Levy.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18.—The Attorney-General's office gave State Auditor Hackmann an opinion today that he need not pay the amounts claimed by Assessor Buder of St. Louis and Assessor Bunker of Kansas City for salary expenses incurred in the collection of last year's State income tax, and that the Auditor is entitled to recover the amounts paid for this purpose the past two years.

Assessor Buder's present claim is for $8000 and Assessor Bunker's is for $4000. The amount paid Buder the past two years totaled about $14,000 and Bunker was paid about $7000.
The statute authorizes refunding to the Assessors extra expenses incurred in the collection of the income tax, but does not specify extra salaries. The point on which the opinion was asked was whether the Assessors were entitled to reimbursement for extra salaries. The opinion is that they are not.

Auditor Hackmann stated that he had in his possession sufficient funds due the two Assessors to cover the claims which will be made for return of the amounts allowed the past two years and that he would hold these funds until suit has been brought against the Assessors for recovery.

SOCIALIST WORKERS DEMAND REFORMS IN GERMANY'S FINANCES

That Premier Poincare reiterated his argument that Germany was not in a position to pay reparations, and that in the meantime he considers that passive resistance has not ended since the Reich refuses to facilitate or even make possible deliveries in kind, notably coal. This, he said, the Ruhr industrialists are willing to effect. In these circumstances, the French Premier warned Germany that he cannot relax his hold on the Ruhr. He said the financial policy of the Government had solved if the Government seriously submitted a positive plan for co-operation with the Ruhr industrialists, enabling them to resume work here today. There can be no modification of the situation or of the relations between the Franco-Belgians and Germany.

PREDICTS MENTAL TEST SOON AS PART OF MARRIAGE CODE

Wisconsin U. Professor Considers Intelligence as Essential as Physical Standards.

By the Associated Press.
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 18.—Passing of an intelligence test as a requirement for marriage can be looked for within 10 to 20 years, Prof. E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin said yesterday. The mental test probably will be a part of the marriage code, much as the physical examination is now in many States, Prof. Ross said.
"Parents give their children their mental qualities as well as their physical characteristics," he declared. "It is just as necessary to preserve the mental standards of the next generation as it is that its bodily health be safeguarded."
"I believe that proper intelligence tests, properly used, will enable society to prevent largely the birth of children mentally incapable, who will later be a liability to the nation."

DOERING AND TWO OTHERS ON TRIAL FOR MAIL TRUCK ROBBERY

Horace L. Dyer, Special Prosecutor for Government, Examines Jury Panel.

The trial of William F. (Whitey) Doering, David Weisman and William Williams, charged with the daring robbery of a mail truck April 2 at Fourth and Locust streets, was begun before Judge Paris in the United States District Court this morning. The loot, as is known, consisted of $93.43 in cash, $81,250 of negotiable securities and unsigned Government bonds, which could have been negotiable by forgery of the signatures, to the value of $2,253,650.

The mail truck was stopped in daylight. The charges against the three defendants are participation in the robbery, threatening a mail messenger with a deadly weapon, having the stolen property in their possession, stealing property of the Government and assaulting the messenger.
Penalty for threatening a mail messenger is imprisonment in the penitentiary for 25 years. For each of the other offenses the penalty is imprisonment for from two to 25 years. Conviction on all the charges is possible in the one trial.

The greater part of the loot obtained by the robbers was found in Doering's home at 23 Sunset avenue, Richmond Heights, which was searched by postoffice inspectors and collectors. Doering, an associate of Egan gangster, was arrested when he entered the house at the time the search was being made.

Horace L. Dyer, as special prosecutor for the Government, began examining the jury panel soon after court opened. The defendants are represented by former Circuit Attorney Thomas B. Harvey and former Assistant Circuit Attorney William Ruer.

RECEIPTS OF AIR MEET TOTALED $138,434

Records Show That 106,000 Paid Admissions; Thousands Viewed Events From Outside.

Statistical reports made to the St. Louis Air Board, at its meeting at the Chamber of Commerce at noon today, showed that approximately 268,000 persons paid admissions to the International Races, on the three days, Oct. 4-6, when they were held at Lambert-St. Louis Field. Bridgeport; and that the total receipts from admissions were $138,434.75.
Figures as to the cost of the races have not been completed. The receipts from admissions proved larger than the first estimates. It was then figured that there would be no money return to investors in the field and improvements.

Besides the number officially recorded as attending, the Air Board estimated that 20,000 to 30,000 persons saw a part of the exhibition from points adjoining the admission space, besides those who gathered along the roads of St. Louis and St. Charles Counties, at most distant points along the triangular air course of 31.07 miles.

The United Railways Co. reported that it carried 64,000 persons to and from the field on the three days, and the Wabash railroad reported that its special trains hauled 4600. In addition to those who were registered as being admitted, and those who watched the events from points outside the field, a large number broke down a fence and entered the field at one point on Saturday, the final day.

One of the men with Overpeck asked the police to see the following message for him: "Tobin, Soft Drink Joint, Jefferson and Clark, St. Louis. Have Murphy come up on first train. Am in trouble. George M. Creed."

BROTHER OF MURDER DEFENDANTS

Creed, who is 36 years old and lives at 2305 Clark avenue, is another St. Louis police character. He formerly owned the saloon at Jefferson and Clark avenues. He has brothers, Thomas and Robert Creed, are awaiting trial for the murder of Patrolman George Gelsler. They were convicted once and sentenced to life imprisonment, but the Supreme Court reversed the case because inadmissible evidence had been introduced by the State. Detectives are searching for the principal witness in the case, William English, who owned the saloon at 2900 Clark avenue, where the murder occurred. English is said to have left the city.

MERCHANT REPORTS LOSS OF $1800 IN HOTEL

Meyer Sacks Says Money Disappeared While He Was With Two Youths in Room.

Meyer Sacks, owner of a women's apparel shop at 810 Lucas avenue, reported to police that he was robbed of $1800 by two young men this morning.
"I was going to buy a new dress on Chippewa street," said Sacks, who is 40 years old and lives at 4411 Lucas avenue. "I drew $1800 from the Franklin Bank, intending to pay $800 for the store and use $1000 for the purchase of stock."

"I went from the bank to Smith and Chestnut streets, where a young man with sideburns stopped me. He said he understood I was looking for a house. Well, I have been thinking of buying a house and I supposed that everybody knew it. You know how such news gets around."
The young fellow told me to accompany him to the Laclede Hotel and on the way he picked up a friend. I went with them to a room on the second floor. The fellow with the sideburns sat on the edge of the bed and the other fellow sat in another chair with his arms resting on my chair.
"Pretty soon the fellow with the sideburns gave me a dollar and told me to get some cigars. I went across the street and bought 10 cigars. When I returned to the room the two young fellows were not there. I thought that was funny so I felt in my hip pocket where I had carried the money and it was gone."

a dozen times" and stuck to her assertion despite vigorous cross-questioning. She was a charwoman, who worked in several of the apartments in the house in which Wallace lived early in 1913.
"I used to watch for Mrs. Stokes because she came so mysteriously," said the witness, explaining that her visits were always preceded by her preparations on Wallace's part as leaving the door open and giving orders in the house that he was to be disturbed.

Says Dr. Adcox Sent Student to State. Briggs, when asked about the matter today, said that Dr. Adcox had sent a number of students to college, and that some of them had offered school credits, which were investigated and found to be in order. He said it would not be possible in his opinion to admit a student into an advanced class of the college with false credits.

The reporters say Dr. Adcox told them that the State Board of Education could be passed by means of substituting another person for the candidate, in the examination, or by having someone sit near the candidate and correct him on answers. The State Board examination must be passed before a license can be obtained, and a license is obtained on a certificate from another State. This stage the matter was not tested out. Brundidge's investigation, ended with his obtaining of a license.

LETTERS SEIZED IN ADOX'S HOME

One of the letters taken from Adcox's residence, which was written on the letter head of a Chicago physician, said:
"P. and S. is now O. K. in Chicago. I am now Connecticut, certificates granted before school listed are N. G. But from now everything will be O. K. Looks as though we will have to take a taxi over. If we had not gone to St. Louis all would have been well. But Dr. B. certainly helped us and every P. and S. graduate grateful to him. We had one of a time. Dr. W. of N.—begs to state that he is still waiting for papers from the K. C. K. League which will have upon them seal of that institution. The seal of S. J. will smile upon these papers but they must have the seal affixed."

A letter signed "4414," which Dr. Adcox's house number, and apparently written in reply to an inquiry, was:
"I received please find the properly executed and I got a fine boiling out for the fees I paid him, but I made a nice contribution to his campaign fund and went back at him and said you want to run again when these years are out, as I have helped twice now, and he said, send me business you have but get my pay after all, as you can see. He is all the good fellow."

Sidener Studying Them Determine if They Connection With Loss of Medical Diploma.

HIGH SCHOOL CREDITS REPORTED OFFERED

Physician Declared to Have Said He Could Furnish Credits Required by Medical Schools "Right Away"

Correspondence taken by Chicago Attorney Sidener from the office of Dr. Robert Adcox, 4414 Lucas boulevard, is being examined by the Circuit Attorney as to its bearing on the charge that Dr. Adcox obtained the issuance of medical college diplomas to unqualified persons.

The Circuit Attorney has been told by Harry T. Brundidge, the St. Louis Star reporter who obtained the medical diploma, and another reporter for the Star, Alexander, that Dr. Adcox offered the presence of both, to get Adcox into the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons and to furnish him with the high school credits he would need for entrance into the medical course for a total of $1000. Brundidge used the name of Thos. Brundidge, and Alexander used that of Roy in these negotiations.

Speed Promised, Reporters Say. The two reporters say Dr. Adcox offered to get the high school diploma "right away," and that he advised Alexander how to proceed with the school classes. Dr. Adcox, charge, said he would get Alexander four years' credit in medical work, so that he would rank as a graduate student, and that a "P. is supposed to have forgotten all over knew, so that there need be no worry about instructors' questions." Dr. Adcox, according to the investigators, said that Dr. W. Briggs, dean of the P. and S. College, would admit the applicant to the high school credits, but that he would not be able to guarantee that Briggs will give him a diploma. Why would he want to do that?

Says Dr. Adcox Sent Student to State. Briggs, when asked about the matter today, said that Dr. Adcox had sent a number of students to college, and that some of them had offered school credits, which were investigated and found to be in order. He said it would not be possible in his opinion to admit a student into an advanced class of the college with false credits.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN TRADE DEAL IS COMPLETED

London Banks Extend Credits for Purchase of 500,000 Tons of Russian Grain.

By Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.
(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The biggest deal yet consummated with Soviet Russia has been signed here by representatives of the Russian and English co-operative societies, involving, it is hoped, export this year of 500,000 tons of Russian wheat to Britain.

Credits to the extent of £1,000,000 (normally $2,000,000) have been guaranteed by leading London banks to cover the Russian grain on the seaboard in Russian ports or abroad. Participants in the big syndicate on the English side are the Co-operative Wholesale Society, Messrs. Shipton Anderson and E. A. Lawrence, grain brokers, and Messrs. Furness, Withy, shipping agents. The Russian signatories are the Cetrorsyus (the central organization of Russian co-operative societies), Arvos and the Kiebsport (the Russian grain exporting organization in which both the State and the co-operative societies are represented).

The board of directors of the new enterprise will be half Russian and half English. Details of the price fixing will be worked out by an Anglo-Russian board.

SAFES IN TWO OFFICES OPENED IN VANOL BUILDING; $305 TAKEN

Robbers Believed to Have Climbed Telephone Pole to Gain Entrance.

The offices of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. and the Jones-Henderson Business College, in the Vanol Building, 2908 Olive street, were entered last night and in each the combination was knocked from the safe. From the insurance company $225 was taken and from the college $80. Police think entrance to the building was gained by climbing a telephone pole in the alley to the second floor.

The office of the Wagner Storage Co., 201 South Jefferson avenue, was entered and the combination broken from the safe, but nothing obtained.

$3000 VERDICT AGAINST UNION FOR NOT RECOGNIZING TRANSFER

Precedent Established as Courts Have Held Union Can Not Be Sued.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 18.—A precedent was established by Federal Judge D. C. Wastenhaver yesterday when he ruled that the failure of a local union to grant credentials to a member of another local constitutes a breach of contract and as such gives the injured party grounds for civil action.

The ruling was in a suit of Stephen J. Nalty against Cleveland Local No. 65 of the Amalgamated Sheet and Metal Workers' International Alliance for $300, which Nalty said represented the amount he lost in pay because the Cleveland local refused to recognize a transfer from the Pittsburgh local. A Federal jury awarded Nalty $3000.

Judge Wastenhaver's ruling is considered significant because courts have held that a union cannot be sued.

Tosca—Elcevan le stelle (The Stars Were Shining) In Italian (Puccini)	Beniamino Gigli	942	$1.50
Tosca—O dolci mani (Oh, Gentle Hands) (Puccini)	Beniamino Gigli
Two numbers of intense and thrilling beauty. The first depicting a few moments of sad, sweet love-memory. Then in the second number, a few moments of false hope.
The Juggler (Machowski) Piano Solo	Sergei Rachmaninoff	943	1.50
Etude in F Minor (Debussy) Piano Solo	Sergei Rachmaninoff
In this remarkable piano record, hear Moszkowski's "Juggler" throw silver balls in the air, and finish off with a whirl. Then hear the subtle and tremendously difficult Etude of Erno Dohnanyi. Both played with splendid virile power.

Light Vocal Selections

Honey, Dat's All (Laddie o' Mine)	Olive Kline Lucy Isabelle Marsh	45367	1.00
Two songs for the heart of Woman, however mute and however deeply hidden. "Honey, Dat's All" has wonderfully soft, smooth cadences. "Laddie o' Mine" is in waltz time. Both songs have orchestral interludes.
My Sweetie Went Away (I'm a Lonesome Cry Baby)	Billy Murray—Ed. Smalle Aileen Stanley	19144	.75
These three favorite Victor artists are appearing this week as blues artists. Murray and Smalle have a weepy number you already know as a fox trot. Miss Stanley is an excellent cry-baby in her home.

Recitations

Ten Little Mice and When Father Shakes the Stove	Edgar Guest	45368	1.00
She Powders Her Nose and The Good Little Boy	Edgar Guest
More of Edgar Guest's familiar little spoken rhymes of everyday life and everyday people. The poet "speaks his own pieces" which are in language and metre of the simplest order.

Dance Records

Roses of Picardy—Waltz Marcheta—Waltz	The Troubadours Green-Arden Orchestra	19117	.75
"Roses of Picardy" was first made famous in song form by John McCormack. It yields a smooth beautiful dance. "Marcheta" has delicate whistlings and shivery xylophone tremolos. Both ideal for the present fashion of waltzing.
Last Night on the Back Porch—Fox Trot If I Can't Get the Sweetie I Want—Fox Trot	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	19139	.75
Paul Whiteman is back from his European triumphs. He has been crowned "King of the Jazz." In the first number he has a jolly fox trot with vocal refrain. In the second there are new effects. Brilliant, richly-colored, perfect records.
Wolverine Blues—Fox Trot House of David Blues—Fox Trot	Benson Orchestra of Chicago The Virginians	19140	.75
Two numbers that are sure to please dancers who like unusual effects in their accompaniment.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of needless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of using he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through ALLENRHU. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without question. All druggists can supply you.

ATTORNEYS-GENERAL NAME OIL COMMITTEE

Standing Executive Body to Confer With U. S. Attorney-General Concerning Conditions.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—A standing executive committee to confer with the United States Attorney-General concerning conditions in the oil industry was appointed yesterday by the conference of Attorneys-General from 34 States called in accordance with the will of the National Association of Attorneys-General.

The committee comprises Attorneys-General O. S. Spillman of Nebraska, George Napier of Georgia, C. L. Hilton of Minnesota, J. R. Benton of Massachusetts, A. V. Coo of Louisiana, Ben J. Gibson of Iowa, George F. Short of Oklahoma, H. H. Cluff of Utah.

Besides calling for "continued and thorough investigation" of the petroleum industry by State authorities and by the Department of Justice of the United States, the conference adopted resolutions recommending that the States place facts "which may disclose violations of law and the evidence thereof" before the United States Department of Justice "in the enforcement of decrees heretofore or hereinafter obtained involving compliance with the laws of the United States."

The resolutions recommended that pipe lines be made common carriers "divorced from the ownership of petroleum and the business of producing, refining or marketing petroleum." They advised further that "such changes be made in freight rates upon petroleum products as will permit producers and refiners in the Mid-Continent and other fields depending upon railroad transportation once more to find a market for their products in competition with other sources of supply."

DOUBTS SECRET SOCIETY SEEKS NATIONAL EDUCATION CONTROL

Head of Cincinnati U. Knows No Reason to Believe Statement by Professor.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—So far as he knows, there is no foundation for the assertion made by Dr. W. P. Burris, of the College of Education, University of Cincinnati, that a secret organization is working in close affiliation with the National Education Association in seeking national control of education, says Dr. R. J. Condon, superintendent of Cincinnati public schools.

Dr. Frederick C. Hicks, president of the University of Cincinnati, discussing the address, called attention to the fact that Prof. Burris was not dean of the College of Education, and added that the sentiments expressed in his address in no way represented the University of Cincinnati or the College of Education.

STINNES' SON, ON WAY TO U. S., SAID TO SEEK OIL PROPERTIES

Father Reported as Planning to Make One of His Concerns the German Standard Oil.

(Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.)

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—Hugo Stinnes Jr., is en route to America, ostensibly to supervise the various Stinnes interests. It is reported on the Bourse that he has gone to buy oil concerns.

Stinnes has been especially active in oil recently, and is said to have bought Mexican fields. The Reisinger oil concern, which is a German trust, is now owned by Stinnes. Its oil being supplied from Stinnes' fields in the Carpathians, which are partly in Czechoslovakia and partly in Rumania, and from some oil fields in Turkey, also Stinnes controlled.

He is reported to be after Mexican and Russian fields. The Reisinger concern is the biggest in Germany making oil from anthracite. Stinnes wants to make it the German Standard Oil.

Young Stinnes, who is only 23, is his father's chief aid in foreign business and has his residence at Hamburg.

5982 LIQUOR ARRESTS IN WASHINGTON IN 18 MONTHS

Superintendent of Police Makes Special Report to District of Columbia Commissioners.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Charged with violating the prohibition law, 5982 persons have been arrested during the last 18 months by Washington police, with the co-operation of Federal agents.

This total is given in a special report submitted to the District of Columbia Commissioners by Mayor Sullivan, superintendent of police, which said also that 34,354 gallons of intoxicating beverages of all descriptions and 12,839 bottles of beer and extracts had been seized. In addition 162 automobiles belonging to alleged prohibition law violators, were confiscated.

Commissioner Oyster, in charge of police, said the report "demonstrates that the local authorities are making an honest effort to carry out the law."

TO CLEAR HEAD AND CLEAN LIVER TAKE A CALOTAB

The Purified and Refined Calomel Tablet That Is Free From Nausea and Danger.

What will human ingenuity do next? Smokeless powder, wireless telegraphy, horseless carriages, colorless iodine, tasteless quinine—now comes Calotabs, the nauseous calomel.

For biliousness, constipation and indigestion the perfected calomel tablet is a practically perfect remedy, as evidenced by the fact that the manufacturers have authorized all druggists to refund the price if the customer is not "perfectly delighted" with Calotabs. One tablet at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. By morning your liver is thoroughly cleansed and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite. Eat what you please—no danger—go about your business.

Genuine Calotabs are never sold in bulk. Get an original package, sealed and trade-marked. Price ten cents and thirty-five cents.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble—indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc.—are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and to a consequent lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food enters, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. They having aside all digestive aid and instead get from any drugstore a few ounces of Bismuth Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuth Magnesia, in liquid form—never liquid or milk—is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

COURTMARTIAL BEGINS HEARING OF TESTIMONY

Capt. Blackburn First Witness in Case of Major Goodman of 138th Regiment.

Testimony was begun today in the Courtmartial of Major Burr S. Goodman of the 138th Regiment, Missouri National Guard, on general charges of insubordination, at the general courtmartial session in the Armory, Grand boulevard and Market street. Captain P. D. Blackburn, 138th Regiment, was the first witness called.

After an objection and a plea for continuance had been overruled, the witness said he had been a Captain in the medical department since late October, 1921, and had known Maj. Goodman all that time.

On the night of Sept. 10, he said, he was passing Col. Thornton, Maj. Goodman and Maj. Kingsland in the drill room of the Armory and heard Thornton demand Goodman's resignation, and heard Goodman say, as nearly as he could remember the words: "You'll get it, you and your damned kluxers."

On cross-examination he said none of them was in uniform and he supposed they were not on duty.

Objection to Klan Question.

On redirect examination he said Goodman spoke loud enough to be heard several feet and appeared to be a little out of sorts.

A member of the court wanted to know their enlightenment on Goodman's manner. Blackburn said: "He was not threatening or angry or insulting, but rather firm, terse, and it sounded like he meant what he said."

Blackburn was asked whether Thornton was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. An objection of Judge Advocate-General Woodward, on the ground of irrelevancy, was sustained.

Col. Thornton testified that the first week in September Maj. Goodman and Lieut. Gerling and Schuette called on him at his office and Goodman told him it was the opinion of a majority of the officers of the regiment that he should resign. He asked why and Goodman said signs of the officers felt he was inefficient and besides Col. Thornton was likely to get unfavorable publicity in connection with an officer who resigned and who was alleged to have deposited in his own name some checks issued by the regiment.

As has been told, four officers are to be tried. The remaining three, Capt. Arnold J. Roemmlich, First Lieut. Robert F. Schuette and First Lieut. John H. Gerling, will be tried after Maj. Goodman.

Court Expresses Disgust Over Arguments

Attacks upon the jurisdiction of the courtmartial and the validity of the charges, made by Walter A. Hill, civilian counsel for Maj. Goodman, occupied most of yesterday's session, greatly to the annoyance of the president of the court, who, at one time, expressed himself as disgusted with the proceeding, remarking that they were having "too darned much law" and "too little business." He overruled all of Hill's technical objections.

ILLINOIS ASKS FOR REHEARING

Wants Commerce Committee to Take Up I. C. "Cut-Off" Case Again.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The State of Illinois and various communities along the line of the Illinois Central asked today for reargument of the Illinois Central "cut-off" case before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission, over the protest of Illinois and certain communities, had ruled that the Illinois Central was entitled to build the Edgewood "cut-off" running from Edgewood, Ill., to Fulton, Ky. Only two of the communities out of 11 heard the arguments in the previous case, today's petitioners said, and these two disagreed in their findings. A rehearing by the entire commission was sought.

VICTROLAS

M'KINLEY UPHOLDS
U. S. LEAGUE POLICY

Says in C. of C. Speech That Political Participation in Tribunal Is Unwise.

A tour of Europe convinced him that the United States was wise in refraining from political participation in the League of Nations. United States Senator William McKinley of Illinois told the Chamber of Commerce in a luncheon speech yesterday. As he made the statement he looked at Senator Spencer of Missouri, who sat at the speakers' table, and the Senator, who has toured Europe also, nodded his head.

However, Senator McKinley qualified his disapproval of the league by saying it is doing excellent work in suppressing the opium traffic and in protecting women and children. The league also has been very effective in routing freight cars from one country to another, the speaker remarked.

"Administration Sees Value."
"The administration sees the value of the league and is co-operating with its various commercial and humanitarian services," the speaker said. "I chanced to be in Geneva at the time of the Gracco-Italian trouble and what I saw of the league then does not move me to speak highly of its effectiveness as a political court of arbitration. I am a Republican Senator, and, of course, I still feel we did well not to get mixed up in it that way."

Nearly every country he visited was on the verge of bankruptcy or revolution, Senator McKinley asserted.

"England has found her markets in Russia and the Near East shut off," he continued. "There is unemployment and unrest and heavy taxation."

"France owes 250,000,000,000
francs, largely to her own peasants.
There is talk of revolution. She is maintaining an army of 800,000 men, and her statesmen are driven by fear of Germany. With a population of 40,000,000 and that decreasing, and a population of 70,000-000 in Germany, she knows she must keep her heel on the fallen foe lest the Germans in 50 years come back as the French did when their 50 years after 1871 was over."

"Germany faces starvation this winter. The German farmers have raised food, but they will not sell it for marks. The salaried classes in the cities are in a sorry plight. I would say to any of you here who have sympathy for any one in Germany that American dollar bills will be most welcome there."

"Balkans Alive With Hate."
"The Balkans are alive with hate.
Italy is in poor economic condition.
Austria is trying to feed her millions with farm areas which can accommodate only half of them, and there is no money to buy from neighbors.
Conditions in these countries are indescribable."

The Senator said he agreed with Herbert Hoover as to Russia, and quoted the Secretary of Commerce as saying that Russia is rearing its children "without respect for law and ignorant of morals, religion and education." The soviet is in the hands of men incapable of administering a government, Senator Mc-Kinley asserted.

CAMPAIGN TO AROUSE INTEREST
IN NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Committee of 30 to Seek Signatures of Persons Favoring Structure in Downtown District.

A committee of young St. Louis business men, calling themselves "the committee of thirty," which has been formed to get 10,000 signatures from persons interested in the erection of a downtown Young Men's Christian Association building, met at luncheon at the American Hotel yesterday, and began their campaign for names immediately afterward.

The organization hopes to have the 10,000 signatures by next Wednesday, after circulating petitions among industries employing large numbers of men. The petitions will be circulated by five teams. The members of the "committee of thirty" have no affiliations with the Y. M. C. A., but believe the erection of a downtown structure is necessary both to the city and to its youth.

Byron W. Moser, president of the board of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke at yesterday's luncheon, said the campaign for obtaining funds to build would begin next year. He believes the cost of building and land will be more than $1,000,000. Tentative plans for the building provide for a gymnasium, equipped with hand ball courts and gymnastic apparatus, a swimming pool, showers, a dining room, and low priced living quarters.

Moser said he hoped that before long there would be a Y. M. C. A. branch in the Carondelet district, and one in the West End. There already is a North Side Y. M. C. A. The $200,000 left by the late Warren Brown for use in erecting a downtown Y. M. C. A., will be duplicated by some other St. Louisan, Moser said he believed. If such a gift is received, he said, he knows of a group which also will give $200,000 for the work.

He Tried This Floor in His Private Office

"I JUST put linoleum in my private office because my shabby wooden floors irritated me. They were scarred, and when their seams opened up, dirt collected. Besides, I did not think that a discolored, splintery, ugly floor fairly represented my business."

He liked it

"Later I put linoleum on my floors all over the place, primarily because I figured it was a clean, good-looking floor, and that it would make an agreeable impression on my customers. It was only when month after month, year after year rolled by, that I found what a long-wearing floor it was and that its tough body resisted the daily pounding of hurrying feet. This seemed about enough to ask of any business floor, yet my linoleum continued to pile up new floor virtues."

"Before very long I found it was cutting down floor expense. Where I had paid real money to refinish my old wood floors, I found that my linoleum needed only an occasional thorough waxing, and then daily brushing with a slightly waxed dust-mop to keep it in first-class condition. My linoleum, moreover, actually got better-looking the longer it was used. Its color mellowed, and many people have commented on its fine appearance."

"One of the best things about linoleum is that it reduces all sorts of miscellaneous din. My employees do not have to fight noise and at the same time try to attend to business."

"I consider that linoleum made a gift of dignity, cleanliness, and economy to my office, which does not happen to be a large one. If it were twenty times larger, there would be, in my opinion, exactly twenty times more need for it."

HEALTHY GUMS MAKE A PRETTIER MOUTH

Poorly, Enemy of Beautiful
Teeth, Can Now Be Checked

You can never have beautiful or a pretty mouth unless you have healthy gums. Four persons out of five, over thirty-five, have poor gums. If your gums are tender, bleed easily, you are probably afflicted with this dread disease. It causes the gums to recede, the teeth to loosen, and the mouth to become unsightly. A bottle of Moore's Pyorrhea Eddy, which you can get at any store, will stop the destruction of Pyorrhea. You will notice the teeth unsightly, the gums will come firm and pink and the teeth on a new lustre and whiteness. Use this treatment by using Moore's Tooth Paste. It will keep the healthy.

BELGIAN WOMAN WEDS COUPLE

First Woman in Country's History to Perform Civil Ceremony.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 18.—For the first time in the history of Belgium a woman yesterday performed a civil marriage ceremony. The wedding took place at Chenee, near Liege, and the woman who officiated was Madame Magis, a member of the City Council.

The law provides that in the absence of the Mayor all the Aldermen and members of the City Council may act in the order of their position in the election returns. The member of the council holding this primary position happened to be Madame Magis. The bride and her mother were hesitant at first, fearing the ceremony, if performed by a woman, might not be legal, but when they were reassured by the lawyers present the marriage proceeded.

How to Rid the Arms of Objectionable Hairs
(Aids to Beauty)
A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required. Mix in a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.

Colonial Club Shaving Cream
The base is a saponified coconut oil, which is very healthful to the face and leaves it very soft and velvety. May be used by anybody, no matter how tender the skin. It makes an abundance of creamy lather, which remains moist for a long time, softens the beard and makes shaving easier.

Mag-Lac Tooth Paste
The original Milk of Magnesia Tooth Paste—recommended by good dentists because of its corrective properties. Not soapy, not gritty—contains just enough abrasive to keep teeth white and clean. Does not affect the enamel of the teeth. Strongly recommended for acid condition of the mouth.

Garden Court Extract
The Garden Court Perfume is the odor of the flower of a rare plant. It is a bouquet of 32 essences perfectly blended to make this the most subtle, pleasant and delightful of all perfumes. It is one to identify with your personality.

Feeling Badly? IRON STARVATION of the blood, perhaps, and your worn-out, exhausted nerves need to be revitalized.
Nuxated Iron, 69c
For this purpose there is nothing better than Organic Iron; not metallic iron, which people usually take, but pure Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. (The dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent to one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.)
Over four million people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich the blood.

Nature Put Iron for Your Blood
In the husks of grains and the peels and skins of fruits and vegetables but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence, the alarming increase in anemia—iron starvation of the blood, with its never ending trend of symptoms of nervous irritability, general weakness, fatigue, disturbance of digestion, headaches, pains across the back, etc.
Either go back to Nature or take Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out, exhausted system. Ther. Exp. Sal., 69c.

CHICAGO BUSINESS MEN URGE 9-FOOT CHANNEL TO GULF

Association of Commerce Files Brief Describing Development That Will Follow Its Completion.

SENATOR MCKELLAR SAYS HE IS CONVINCED

Senate Committee Told Freight Charge Saving Waterway Will Make Profitable

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Development of the deep waterway project between Chicago and the Gulf of Mexico is recommended in a brief filed by the Chicago Association of Commerce at the hearing before the Senate committee which closed its inquiry here yesterday.
The reality of a 9-foot waterway from Chicago to the Mississippi River would greatly assist in development of commerce between interior ports, such as Peoria, St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo, in connection with lake vessels, the statement said. The large quantity of iron ore required by St. Louis furnaces could be moved by barge from Chicago at low cost and without the expense of a long haul by rail.
Senator McKellar of Tennessee, at a dinner given to the committee by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the Chicago Association of Commerce, said the hearings were being held to determine the necessity of a nine-foot stage between Chicago and New Orleans, as well as the withdrawal of 10 more cubic feet of water from the Mississippi for sanitary and navigation purposes.
Object Lesson in Commerce.
At the session of the committee, Robert Hula of the Chicago Association of Commerce, produced a picture showing that it cost $12,000 to ship freight from Cedar Rapids, Ia., to the Pacific Coast by rail, whereas it cost shippers of the western seaboard between 90 cents and $1.25 to ship the same freight to the East to the Pacific Coast by rail, via the Panama Canal. Hula said that shippers at Cedar Rapids could ship the same freight to Baltimore by rail and then to New York by water for $1.94 to $2.15, or less than the cost of the all-rail route westward. Hula said that every community in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and states farther west was in the same position that Illinois was when shipping was taken into consideration. All of these states begin to ship south as soon as the way is open, he said.

Progress of Work for 9-Foot Stage in Ohio River Described.
By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—While the 9-foot stage in the Ohio River, foundation will be laid for building up in the Ohio Valley the great industrial and commercial emporium of the world, said S. B. Thompson, secretary of the National Rivers and Harbor Congress at convention here today of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association. The canalization of the river would mean a million dollar project, planned by Col. C. W. Kutz division engineer, U. S. A., in charge of work.
"The Ohio River," said Col. Kutz, "is canalized from Pittsburgh to Portsmouth, O., a distance of 100 miles, while from Portsmouth to Cincinnati, a further distance of 100 miles, the work required to complete the project is finished or underway, except for a short stretch between Cincinnati and Louisville. Improvements of which have been made by a desire to harmonize the river and navigation interests at Louisville."

The distance from Knoxville to the mouth of the river is about 100 miles, and surveys have been made for selection of sites for locks and dams, so that if necessary, become available, three, four, five, new locks and dams be started in that stretch of river next year.

Decrease in Postal Savings Reported to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Post Office savings on deposit in St. Louis and at September amounted to $45,194, the Postmaster-General announced. This represented a decrease during the month of $113.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee, in a dinner given to the committee by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the Chicago Association of Commerce, said the hearings had gone far enough to convince him of the necessity of a nine-foot stage between Chicago and New Orleans, as well as the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet of water from Lake Michigan for sanitary and navigation purposes.

At the session of the committee, Robert Hula of the Chicago Association of Commerce, produced statistics showing that it cost $2.28 a ton to ship freight from Cedar Rapids, Ia., to the Pacific Coast by rail, whereas it cost shippers of the East $1.25 to ship the same freight from the East to the Pacific Coast by water, via the Panama Canal.

Never packed in anything but glass

"All green olives and stuffed olives are Spanish Green Olives. They contain 1400 calories to the pound—more than white bread, which has but 1215."

You will always find this finest of appetizers packed in the finest of containers—glass. For glass is the cleanest, most attractive and most sanitary of containers—the most satisfactory in which to pack Spanish Green Olives.

In these delightfully transparent bottles, the salty, tangy fruit stands out to delight your eye, and later to pacify your taste. Choose either the plain olives or those that are stuffed with delicious Spanish sweet peppers. Both are equally delicious.

Plain or stuffed, they are Spanish Green Olives. Or, as they are more generally known, Spanish Queen Olives. For every queen olive is a green olive.

Spanish Green Olives are good for you. The olive oil in them is healthful and nourishing. Children may eat all they want.

Spanish Green Olives make wonderful salads and sandwiches. Use them as garnishes, too. Or serve them by themselves. Either the plain or stuffed Spanish Green Olives would be a welcome delicacy at dinner tonight. Buy a bottle or two today.

MISSING FRUIT DEALER HAD RECEIVED THREAT

Murder of Tom Spicuzza Recalled in Disappearance of William Rizzo.

Detectives investigating the case of William Rizzo, 41 years old, of 2617 South King's highway, whose fruit truck was found abandoned at O'Fallon, Ill., about 24 miles northeast of St. Louis, at 11 a. m. yesterday, are working on the theory that his unexplained absence may in some way be connected with the murder of Tom Spicuzza, who was shot down at Eleventh street and Franklin avenue Aug. 7, 1920.
Rizzo, who sold fruit to retailers in Belleville and O'Fallon, passed through Belleville on his weekly trip, at about 8 a. m., on his way to O'Fallon. He greeted friends in Belleville, among them Sam Mercurio.

Motor of Truck Running.
Three hours later Rizzo's truck, loaded with fruit, the engine running and the hood raised, was found at the side of the Shiloh road, about a half mile south of O'Fallon. Residents of O'Fallon paid no attention to the incident at the time, believing there was something wrong with the mechanism of the truck and that the driver had gone for assistance.
But at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when it was discovered that the truck was still there, a search was made for the driver. He could not be found. The truck was taken to a garage. Rizzo's wife and brothers were notified.

Rizzo's brother, Charles Rizzo, of 1529 Cora avenue, went to O'Fallon today to aid police in the search.
He said that William Rizzo had no enemies, so far as he knew, and that he never carried much money. Mrs.
Rizzo said her husband's business affairs are in good shape and that his domestic life was happy. She scouted a theory that he might have been kidnapped.
The Spicuzza murder followed a robbery at the Rizzo home on Cora avenue. William Rizzo and his wife and two children then lived at that address with his brother. Spicuzza was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery, but later was released.

Two weeks later Spicuzza, standing at Eleventh street and Franklin avenue, was fired upon from an automobile. The Rizzos received a warning that they were blamed for Spicuzza's death, and two nights later a closed automobile drove up before a fruit stand which they then conducted at Union Market, and a fusillade of shots was poured into the stall. The Rizzos were absent.

PHYSICAL MERGER OF PHONES TO BEGIN IN JANUARY

Physical consolidation of the Bell and Kinloch Telephone companies, which recently merged, will begin shortly after Jan. 1, with the unification of the Bell exchange of the Kinloch.
Thus the Delmar subscribers will be the first to have access to all Bell and Kinloch telephones in the city.
To relieve the congestion of the Portland exchange of the Bell 1900 of 10, 750 phones on the Forest exchange will be transferred to Delmar, giving that exchange 8750 subscribers.
The unification of the Delmar exchange is expected to be completed about Jan. 22.
The change will be made by cable groups, and, as each cable contains the lines of from 400 to 800 subscribers, groups of telephone users gradually will be transferred. Partly-line subscribers will be unified in divisions and each will receive a new telephone instrument to give the "selective ringing service," by which only the particular party desired is called instead of telephons of all parties on the party line ringing.

RECEIVER FOR FILM CONCERN

Complaint and $93,000 Claim Filed Against Triangle Corporation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A Federal receiver was appointed yesterday for the Triangle Film Corporation, at one time one of the leading producers and distributors of motion pictures. Percival L. Waters received the appointment after a complaint had been filed by Adam and Charles Kessel with a claim of $93,000. The corporation's headquarters is in this city.

Liabilities were given at about $440,000, of which $235,000 is due to three other picture producing concerns, most of whose stock is owned by the Triangle Co. Up to 1919, the Triangle Co. was actively engaged in the production of motion pictures, but became financially involved. Its indebtedness was $2,680,000. Under the management of Waters it has paid off more than $2,000,000 of this sum.

$200,000 WAR CONTRACT SUIT

Daugherty Takes Action Against Philadelphia Concern.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Attorney-General Daugherty has announced filing of a civil suit in the Philadelphia Federal District Court to recover $200,000 in a war contract case growing out of the purchase of the Mays Landing ordnance depot at Atlantic City.

The defendants are Herman Kettman and F. Gordon Miles, trading as F. Gordon Miles & Co. Breach of contract through alleged failure to meet payments due the Government is charged, and it also is alleged that the defendants sold and shipped away from the depot large quantities of Government materials without authority and retained the money obtained.

Drug Smuggling in Austria.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Oct. 1.—Cocaine smugglers are active in Austria, bringing in the drug from Germany and France. The police not long ago found a consignment of 169 pounds. One kilogram was sold recently for the equivalent of $2100. It was purchased first for $54, the profits of middlemen accounting for the spread.

Miss Elizabeth Schoy, 31, Found Dead in Home From Gas Poisoning.

Miss Elizabeth Schoy, 31 years old, was found dead from gas poisoning on the floor of the kitchen of her three-room flat at 2853 South Eighteenth street, by police; men who broke open the door at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Her brother, Frank, 26, was unconscious in bed in an adjoining room.

The police were called by neighbors who were notified by an employee of the Laclede Gas Light Co. of the odor of gas. The employee had gone to the flat to investigate the reason tenants had not occupied the lower flat had not used gas in two months. These tenants had moved and the gas company employee went to the Schoy flat upstairs to obtain the key. When policemen received no response to the bell at the Schoy flat they broke open the kitchen door.

Miss Schoy was lying in front of the gas stove, the oven door of which was open, and the burners turned on but not lighted. The doors leading into the two bedrooms were closed, but the gas had penetrated to them in sufficient volume to cause the brother, to be overcome while asleep.

Both were taken to the city hospital, where physicians said Miss Schoy had been dead for some time and her brother's condition was serious.

Neighbors said Miss Schoy had been in ill health for several years. She and her brother were the only members of the family.

Michigan County Clerk Says "Keep Up Courtship and Don't Be a Tightwad."

By the Associated Press.
CENTERVILLE, Mich., Oct. 18.—County Clerk John Niendorf of St. Joseph County believes that a county clerk's responsibility does not end with the issuance of marriage licenses. He has had printed a supply of cards containing his rules for a successful marriage, and each couple is given one.

One side of the card carries the county clerk's blessing: "May all your days be as happy as your wedding day."

On the reverse side appear 10 "rules" to "insure" happy marriages. They include:

"Keep up the courtship. Do 50-50 on the money and 50-50 on the love. Make your own home and don't live with relatives. Beware the boarder, and don't be a tightwad."

"They're all good rules," Niendorf said. "I have tried them in my own home, and I know."

DOWNTOWN CROWD CHASES TWO ROBBERS

Young Men Who Beat Optometrist in Office on Broadway Get Away.

Dr. Zephirin Gullbault, 47 years old, an optometrist, of 3428 St. Vincent avenue, was beaten severely today by two robbers in frustrating a holdup in the F. J. Gullbault Optical Co. store, at 423 North Broadway. The robbers escaped after a chase on Broadway and St. Charles street in which pedestrians joined.

Dr. Gullbault, employed by his brother, Frederick J. Gullbault, was alone in the store about 8:30 a. m. when two young men entered, one asking whether glasses might relieve a headache and what the price of an examination would be. Gullbault took him into a rear room for an examination, paying no attention to the other young man. When the optometrist proceeded with the examination, he heard a command from behind to throw up his hands. He turned and saw the second young man with a revolver. Gullbault grappled with him.

Meanwhile, the supposed patient arose from his chair, with a revolver in his hand, and both young men began beating the optometrist with their weapons. About that time Mrs. Nellie Campbell, an employee at Nugent's store, entered the place on her way to work. She ran to the sidewalk and screamed, and the two robbers fled.

One went east on St. Charles street and disappeared before a crowd of pedestrians which started in pursuit could reach Fourth street. The other young man ran south on Broadway pursued by policemen and pedestrians, and disappeared in a building near Locust street. The policemen did not use their revolvers because of the crowds on the street. The man who ran east on St. Charles threw away his revolver.

Gullbault was taken to City Hospital, where it was found he had suffered four lacerations of the scalp, cuts on both hands and bruises on his face.

Murder Defendant Found Dead.

AT 77, THEY SEE FIRST TRAIN

Two Chinese on Trip From Mining Camp to Canton.

By the Associated Press.
LEWISTON, Idaho, Oct. 12.—Although each has reached the age of 77 years, the first time Mah Yung and Pun Loi ever saw a railroad train was yesterday, when they boarded it at the town of Greer, 50 miles east of here, in coming to this city on the first leg of their journey to Canton, China.

For 60 years they had been at the mining camp at Pierre City, 35 miles from Greer, and this is the first time since entering the camp they had caught a glimpse of the outside world.

MOSTLY SALLY.

Sally Trapped in Elevator With the Red-Haired Man

By P. G. WODEHOUSE — A CONTINUED STORY

At the third floor Sally leaned forward and prodded Jules in the lower ribs. All through her stay at Renville she had found in dealing with the native population that actions spoke louder than words. If she wanted anything in a restaurant or a store, she pointed; and, when she wished the elevator to stop, she prodded the man in charge. It was a system worth a dozen French conversation books.

Jules brought the machine to a halt; and it was at this point that he should have done the one thing connected with his professional activities, which he did really well—the opening, to-wit, of the iron cage. There are ways of doing this. Jules' was the right way. He was accustomed to do it with a flourish, and generally remarked "V'la!" in a modest but self-congratulatory voice as though he would have liked to see another man who could have put through a job like that. Jules' opinion was that he might not be much to look at but that he could open an elevator door.

Tonight, however, it seemed as if even this not very exacting feat was beyond his powers. Instead of inserting his key in the lock, he stood staring in an attitude of frozen horror. He was a man who took most things in life pretty seriously, and whatever was the little difficulty just now seemed to have broken him all up.

"There appears," said Sally, turning to her companion, "to be a hitch. Would you mind asking what's the matter? I don't know any French myself except 'oo la la!'"

The young man, thus appealed to, nervously looked at the door.

"Oh, esker . . . esker vous . . ."

They Finally Get Jules Under Control

"Stop him!" said Sally firmly. The red-haired young man looked as a native of Johnstown might have looked on being requested to stop that city's celebrated food.

"Stop him?" "Yes. Blow a whistle or something."

Out of the depths of the young man's memory there swam to the surface a single word—a word which he must have heard somewhere or read somewhere; a legacy, perhaps, from long-vanished school-days. He examined the word and it was a pipkin.

"Zut!" he barked, and instantaneously Jules turned himself off at the main. There was a moment of dazed silence, such as might occur in a boiler-factory if the works suddenly shut down.

"Quick! Now you've got him!" cried Sally. "Ask him what he's talking about—if he knows, which I doubt—and tell him to speak slowly. Then we shall get somewhere."

The young man nodded intelligently. The advice was good.

"Lentement," he said. "Parlez"

Sally Suggests They Yell for Help

"Well, for one thing, we might all utter a loud yell. It would scare most of the people in the hotel to death, but there might be a survivor or two who would come and investigate and let us out."

"What a ripping idea!" said the young man, impressed.

"I'm glad you like it. Now tell him the main outline, or he'll think we've gone mad."

The young man searched for words, and eventually found some which expressed his meaning lamely but well enough to cause Jules to nod in a depressed sort of way. "Fine!" said Sally. "Now, all together at the word 'three.' One—two—Oh, poor darling!" she broke off. "Look at him!"

In the corner of the elevator, the emotional Jules was sobbing silently into the bunch of cotton-waste which served him in the office of a pocket handkerchief. His heart-broken gulps echoed hollowly down the shaft.

In these days of cheap books of instruction on every subject under the sun, we most of us know how to behave in the majority of life's little crises. We have only ourselves to blame if we are ignorant of what to do before the doctor comes, of how to make a dainty winter coat for baby out of father's last year's underserv and of the best method of coping with the cold mutton. But nobody yet has come forward with practical advice as to the correct method of behavior to be adopted when the elevator man starts crying. And Sally and her companion, as a consequence, for a few moments merely stared at each other helplessly. "Poor darling!" said Sally, finding speech. "Ask him what's the matter."

The young man looked at her doubtfully.

"Don't weaken," said Sally. "I think you've got him going." "Esquer vous . . . Pourquoid vous ne . . . I mean ne vous . . . that is to say, quel est le raison . . ." He broke off here, because at this point Jules began to explain. He explained very rapidly and at considerable length. The fact that neither of his hearers understood a word of what he was saying appeared not to have impressed itself upon him. Or, if he gave a thought of it, he dismissed the objection as trifling. He wanted to explain, and he explained. Words rushed from him like water from a geyser. Sounds which you felt you would have been able to put a meaning to if he had detached them from the main body and repeated them slowly, went swirling down the stream and were lost forever.

"Lentement. Pas si—you know what I mean—pas si dashed vite!" Ah-a-ah!" cried Jules, catching the idea on the fly. "Lentement! Ah, oui, lentement!"

There followed a lengthy conversation which, while conveying nothing to Sally, seemed intelligible to the red-haired linguist. "The silly ass," he was able to announce some few minutes later, "has made a bloomer. Apparently he was half asleep when we came in, and he shoved us into the lift and slammed the door, forgetting that he had left the keys on the desk."

"I see," said Sally. "So we're shut in?"

"I'm afraid so. I wish to goodness," said the young man, "I knew French well. I'd curse him with some vim and not a little animation, the chump! I wonder what 'blighter' is in French," he said, meditating.

"It's the merest suggestion," said Sally, "but oughtn't we to do something?"

"What could we do?"

"You know," he said, "I don't enjoy chatting with this blighter. I mean to say, it's a bit of an effort. I don't know why it is, but talking French always makes me feel as if my nose were coming off. Couldn't we just leave him to have his cry out by himself?"

"The idea!" said Sally. "Have you no heart? Are you one of those fends in human shape?"

He turned reluctantly to Jules, and paused to overhaul his vocabulary.

"You ought to be thankful for this chance," said Sally. "It's the only real way of learning French, and you're getting a lesson for nothing. What did he say then?"

"Something about losing something, it seemed to me. I thought I caught the word perdu."

"But that means a partridge, doesn't it? I'm sure I've seen it on the menu."

"Would he talk about partridges at a time like this?"

"He might. The French are extraordinary people."

"Well, I'll have another go at him. But he's a difficult chap to chat with. If you give him the least bit of encouragement, he goes off like a rocket."

"Oh!" he said with sudden enlightenment. "Your job?" He turned to Sally. "I got it that time," he said. "The trouble is, he says that if we yell and rouse the house, we'll get out all right, but he will lose his job, because this is the second time this sort of thing has happened, and they warned him last time that once more would mean the push."

"Then we mustn't dream of yelling," said Sally, decidedly.

Yourself

By J. J. MUNDT.

Do not disappoint the person who looks upon you as a friend.

Be true to your colors if you have given another reason to think that you are a good friend.

Suppose the person who presumes that you are an interested friend unburies his or her mind to you, do not betray the trust placed in you.

Of course it is unwise to divulge what has been told you by a friend but it is also a despicable thing to do.

None wants to feel that confidence has been misplaced.

Of course it is unwise to tell even your best friend secrets that would be damaging.

There may come a time when the one possessing the information you have given will turn against you and then what will be the result?

It is not necessary to tell secrets to make conversation.

Certain things about yourself are your own business and certainly personal matters about your friends should be respected as belonging to them and not to the general public.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Sleep.

LET others sound the praises of laughter, dance and song or sing the changing phases of love the whole day long; let others choose for topics earth's manifold delights, the beauty of the tropics, dim dawns and starry nights; the pageantry that passes as flying months unfold, the springtime's verdant grasses, the autumn's crown of gold. For beauty's here and yonder and loveliness is rife and everywhere men wander they find fresh joy in life. The splash of silver fountains, the roses growing wild, the mist on distant mountains, the laughter of a child. I, too, have seen the graces of Nature's smiles and tears; I, too, have watched loved faces grow fairer with the years. But just for this day's measure I long for rest that's deep, so, passing brighter treasure, I sing of dreamless sleep. Of sleep that notes no going of bright or shadowed hours, no thought of moments flowing, no care for thorns or flowers. Of sleep that ends all longing, that soothes all day's regrets, that cures sad fancies thronging, of sleep that just forgets. And so, with lyre and singing and ringing roundelay, with airy fancies winging, let others sing the May. Let others tell the story of beauty and of love, the sunset's robe of glory, the mildness of the dove. But for today I'd wander through poppies, rank and deep, I'd lose myself out yonder in depths of dreamless sleep.

POTATO ROLLS

Two cups mashed potatoes. One teaspoon salt. One tablespoon sugar. Four tablespoons shortening. One well beaten egg. Four teaspoons baking powder. Place in a bowl and beat with a spoon to mix, then add sufficient flour to mold (about 2 1/2 cups), roll one-quarter of an inch thick on a well floured pastry board. Cut with a three-inch cookie cutter, then brush with melted butter or shortening; fold like pocket-book, brush the tops of the rolls with melted butter, bake in a hot oven 15 minutes. This recipe is used in Osburn castle, on the Isle of Wight, England, and is called Irish queen potato rolls.

Janet Only a Doll With Broken Head But Her Case Is Important One at "Hospital"

By Marguerite Martyn.

The week had been so full of a number of things, of crowds, of speed, of being urged everywhere to step on the gas, that when I was halted by the shrieks of a 3-year-old, curly-haired tyrant demanding attention to an accident that had befallen Janet, companion of her waking hours and solace of her dreams as well, I confess it was with some impatience I seized the mangled remains of a once rather prepossessing doll and promised to have them restored as nearly as possible to their former semblance—if only the small tyrant would not interrupt me at my career as she was so well capable of doing.

There was a doll-mending shop on Olive street. In the 388 block. I had noticed its show windows and smiled at its sentimental sign, "Doll Hospital," wondering vaguely if grown persons actually assumed to make a living at such a business, with new and always handsomer dolls so plentiful and, at off seasons, cheap in the shops.

Well, anyway, here at last, was one customer for them. No use to stop and argue about a new doll to replace Janet, that would only waste time.

Hither I hastened as fast as the flivver would consent to carry me. And here the mad whirl in which I had been moving came to a sudden pause.

A Real Mother

Runs the "Hospital." In the first place, I'd been obliged to wait upon the door step while being interviewed three separate and distinct times by as many separate and distinct individuals, reporting back to somebody inside the house.

Nothing forbidding or suspicious in the attitude of the interviewers. On the contrary, they were all young persons, smiling responsive, engaging. But a little mysterious. Inside a large screen was being adjusted.

"Part of our business is wig making and hair dyeing and some of our customers do not like to come in contact with other customers," explained a young girl, glancing over her shoulder, not furtively, but with a twinkle in her eye.

Impatience was already giving way to curiosity with me, you may be sure.

A savory odor of cookery was in the air. "Mother will be in presently. She is giving the children their lunch before they go back to school."

"Perhaps I'd better come another time," I said, glancing toward the screen.

"Oh, no. There is nobody there, but we keep head models of some of our customers upon which we dress their toupees or their transformations and they are labeled with names that might be recognized." Janet's Case Not Hopeless One.

Oh, yes, with glue and paper-mache and paint and varnish Janet's pristine beauty could be restored. I was assured after a judicial examination had been made.

Presently "mother," otherwise Mrs. M. Hayes, entered, a broad bosomed, comfortable looking matron in a house dress and kitchen apron.

"Is it an urgent case?" she asked rather solemnly.

"Why, yes, it is. That is, to me. Why? Do you often have urgent cases?"

"Sometimes it is almost a matter of life and death," she responded, with a world of sympathy in her voice.

"We had to keep one little girl waiting a few days in the hospital. They kept hurrying us, coming and calling on the telephone. Afterward they told us she had begun to improve as soon as her doll was restored to her. They even said we'd probably saved her life."

"It is so nice when they are satisfied and appreciative," she added expansively.

"Here is a doll we are keeping just as it was brought in," went on Mrs. Hayes. "We have heard that its owner died. We know they will want it when they have had time to remember about it, but we don't know whether they will want it mended or left just as it was."

Hammer Had Caused Janet's Cranial Fracture.

By this time impatience had slipped off me like a cloak. I wanted to hear more. Important things might be needing my immediate attention, but mightn't the first tragedy of childhood, the broken doll, be more important than anything else, and momentous in its consequences? I'd better get Janet's cranium operated on successfully and quickly or, well—possibly I'd better forego a few hectic days and submit myself to other whims of the young tyrant lest there be some really serious developments from this one.

She was probably weeping now and working herself into a frenzy of woe, possibly illness. Janet's skull had been fractured deliberately with a tempting tack hammer. That hadn't tended to temper my impatience at the time. But I could see how remorse might intensify grief.

Meanwhile Mrs. Hayes continued placidly and soberly to detain and fascinate, but by no means to reassure me, with other incidents of her business experience.

"Here is a rush order. We have to have this doll repaired by the time its owner returns from California. She has been homesick all the time and they are afraid it will take a serious turn if she doesn't find her doll just as she left it. She doesn't talk of anything else. And somebody, since she went away, thinking she had discarded it, had thrown it upon a rubbish heap where it had got broken and soiled."

"Oh, yes, they could find new

Fashion Frills

Among fashionable boudoir accessories shown in New York are a group of tiny French figures of painted wood. They hold handkerchiefs, boxes, pin cushions and racks of neckties.

The printed silk kerchief is so sensitive—the color of the day that the bald, the gray and the faded beneath the belt on the side and allowed to trail negligently down the skirt.

Many costumes otherwise innovating of fur now have an ermine or seal "ribbon" at the neck. This strip is sometimes woven in and out around the neck, as a ribbon might be woven.

The newest corset is not only made, but moulded to the individual figure. It is as carefully made as a gown. The material is very fine silk elastic and the openings are on the side.

A French Recipe

Mushrooms are pretty safe things to eat in the French capital, for every basketful that comes to the Paris markets is opened and examined by a health inspector before permission is given for it to be sold. More than 50 years ago the old-fashioned test of putting a piece of silver in the pan with the mushrooms and considering them as poisonous if the cooking turned them black was done away with. Doctors declared that most of the cases of poisoning were brought about by this very practice.

When mushrooms are cheap the French housewife makes a good conserve with butter for later use with meats or alone.

Clean the mushrooms, cut into pieces and put into fresh cold water. Drain off and put them into a casserole with a large piece of butter. Cook over a hot fire until the water they contain is completely evaporated. Put into cans or bottles and seal tightly as for canned fruit. Sterilize.

:: Children's Bedtime Story ::

By Thornton W. Burgess

Reddy Fox is one of those who are shrewd enough and smart enough to try to know all that goes on in the hope that they may turn something to their advantage. He had been taking a sun bath on a flat rock in the Old Pasture when the hunter and his dog had found the flock of young Bob Whites, and the hunter had shot twice. Reddy's eyes flew open instantly. He knew the meaning of that sound. He sat up with ears cocked and eyes wide open. He could look across the Green Meadows. In the distance beyond Farmer Brown's land lay a wheat field and in the middle of that he saw the hunter with his terrible gun.

"The hunting season has begun!" exclaimed Reddy. "I thought it was about time. That hunter must have found Bob White and his family. I wonder if he killed any of them. I hope not. Every one killed by a hunter is one less for me to have a chance to catch. But if he wound some of them it is another matter altogether. I hate hunters with their terrible guns! But just the same they make it possible for me to get many a good meal. It won't do for me to go down there now, but tonight I'll look over the ground down there."

Reddy saw the hunter climb over the fence onto Farmer Brown's land. Then faintly he heard the shout of Farmer Brown's boy and grinned as he watched that hunter hurriedly climb back over the fence off of Farmer Brown's land and go on his way. "Those Bob Whites grow over onto Farmer Brown's land," chuckled Reddy. "That will be the place for me to look tonight!" He watched the hunter until the latter disappeared. Then he once more curled up on the flat rock and finished his interrupted nap.

As soon as the Black Shadows had crept down over the Green Meadows that night Reddy trotted down from the Old Pasture and straight over toward that part of the Green Meadows where the hunter had been when Farmer Brown's boy drove him away. Then, just as the hunter's dog had done that morning, Reddy began to go carefully over the ground, back and forth so as to cover every bit of it. For a long time he found no trace of the Bob Whites. Then he came to a little clump of weeds and at once his keen nose caught the Bob White scent. Slowly, carefully, a step at a time, Reddy crept forward ready to spring at the first sign of a movement. As he got nearer his nose told him that the scent was not strong enough to come from a Bob White. It told him that a Bob White had been there very recently, but was there no longer.

He carefully looked into the clump of weeds and his eyes and his nose told him just what had happened.

"One of those Bob Whites was wounded," said Reddy to himself as he found a little spot of blood. "He was wounded badly, and he was hidden in this clump of weeds all day. Mrs. Bob White has been with him. Now they have gone. They didn't fly because here is their scent. Probably that young Bob White can't fly."

Reddy's eyes brightened at the thought and he began to follow with that wonderful nose of his the scent left by the young Bob White and Mrs. Bob.

No matter what style underwear you want—here it is PERHAPS you are warm-blooded, and through even the coldest weather you like medium weight underwear, the same cut as your summer underwear.

Perhaps you are the "shivery" kind, and for winter you like warm, woolly-feeling underwear, with snug long sleeves and legs.

Whatever style you wear, there are many times during the winter when you want suitable undergarments for evening wear—only how often you've wished they could be warm, even though they couldn't have long sleeves and long legs!

All of these styles, and endless others, can be found in Carter's Knit Underwear. And this variety is provided for not only in design, such as low neck, high neck, sleeveless, short sleeves, long sleeves, and so on—Not only in weight, heavy, medium and light—But in actual materials, such as lisle, cotton, cotton-and-wool, all wool, silk-and-wool, and knit silk. It gives you a choice that takes care of literally every need.

This underwear is planned by an expert designer

Fashion has been just as important a consideration in the planning of Carter's Knit Underwear as material and style. For after all, in these days of carefully considered silhouette, all the warmth and comfort in the world would be useless if the underwear were not at the same time correct in fashion.

Small wonder that Carter's meets the demands of fashion, for our expert designer plans it and each new style is actually fitted on a living model.

Carter's Knit Underwear keeps its shape after long wear and innumerable washings. And its special elastic knit allows it to give with every movement, never pulling or binding.

With the final details of flat seams with budded ends to keep them from ripping, the double crochet edging, reinforced buttonholes, buttons stitched with extra stitches, Carter's Knit Underwear is a very true economy.

And the crowning glory is that all these good points are not only in the women's underwear, but in men's too, and babies' and children's. Ask for Carter's Knit Underwear in your accustomed store.

LEST WE FORGET.
THE tumult and the shouting dies,
The customers have pulled their freight;
At last the athletes visualize
The longed-for "million-dollar gate."
Which is the biggest melon yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

Far called the athletes melt away,
On dune and headland sinks the fire;
To tote their earnings from the fray,
An auto truck they will require.
They get the gross and not the net,
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

In little old Manhattan Isle
There is a grin on every face;
The magnates and the players smile
The smile that no one can efface.
But we should worry, stew and fret,

TOO TRUE.
The interest in the world's series may be waning in New York but that million-dollar gate would indicate that the principal is still there.

A world's series every day might become monotonous in course of time, but the fans can stand it once a year for a long time to come.

SAY BUSINESS DEAL IS BEHIND STRANGE MURDER

Police Think Simon Gottlieb Was Shot in Office 2302 Wash as Result Casual Dispute.

BROTHER DIES AS RESULT OF SHOOTING

Jacob Gottlieb Expires Auto After Visiting Morgue and Identifying the Body.

The murder of Simon Gottlieb, his real estate office at 2302 Washington street yesterday afternoon, was followed by the sudden death of his brother, Jacob, apparently due to heart shock, seemingly the result of a casual business dispute, detectives of the police homicide squad said today.

The detectives based their theory on the fact that no attempt was made to rob Simon Gottlieb and far as the detectives were able to learn, Gottlieb had no enemies who had threatened his life.

There were no eyewitnesses to actual murder, but several neighbors living in the vicinity of the office who saw two men running away from the office, followed by Gottlieb, who collapsed when he reached the sidewalk, have told the police that the men were awfully excited.

Simon Gottlieb, who was 44 years old and resided at 5152 A. Mine avenue, was alone in his office when his assailants entered. What transpired immediately before the shooting only the players themselves know.

Peter Carroll, who has a grocery at 2380 Wash. street, one door west of the real estate office, told police that he heard no shots. The first intimation he had that there had been trouble, he said, was when Gottlieb staggered to the street door of the grocery, gasped "I'm shot" and fell unconscious. Carroll lifted him into a chair in the grocery where he expired.

Carroll said that when Gottlieb collapsed at the front door two men were running north on Twenty-third street in the direction of Chestnut street. At this point the negroes took up the thread of the story. They said they saw two men run from the real estate office with Gottlieb in pursuit. As the men reached the corner of the grocery, the two men fired at Gottlieb and then ran north on Twenty-third.

Bullets Found on Floor.
But the bullets that killed Gottlieb were fired in the office. Detectives found two bullets that had passed through his body. They were on the floor. One was a steel-jacketed bullet and the other was of lead, indicating that they had been fired from two revolvers. The police believe that each of the two men fired a bullet before they ran out. The bullets had passed through the body both entering at the abdomen.

Miss Mary Ellen Baker of 418 Sen. Francisco avenue, clerk of Gottlieb, who was out collecting rents when the shooting occurred, told the police that her employer had never had any serious trouble with the usual disputes with tenants over the question of rents.

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of homicide by unidentified persons in the case.

No eye witness of the shooting appeared at the inquest.

Carroll testified that Gottlieb staggered into his store, exclaimed, "I been shot," and collapsed.

Clarence Goff, a storekeeper at 2301 Wash. street, testified that he heard two shots, and saw Gottlieb opening the door of Carroll's store but he saw no one who might have fired the shots.

Miss Baker told that Wednesday Gottlieb had a quarrel with a woman tenant about a deposit as a prospective tenant had left with her to be delivered to Gottlieb, and that Gottlieb had ordered the two women from his office.

The Jacob Gottlieb inquest will tomorrow.

Mrs. Bessie Pappas of 1907 Franklin avenue, one of the women referred to by Miss Baker, informed the police that last Sunday she told it upon herself to rent the downstairs flat to a Mrs. George Oran.
